MARRAKECH

Koutoubia Mosque

The largest mosque in Marrakech, its minaret is also the tallest structure within the walls of the old city, the Ochre City. Built in 1152, the Koutoubia Minaret takes inspiration from the Hassan Tower in Rabat, which was never completed.

MARRAKECH

El Badi Palace

It is an architectural complex built in Marrakech at the end of the 16th century by the Saadian Sultan Ahmed al-Mansour ad-Dahbi to celebrate the victory over the Portuguese army in 1578. Today, all that remains is an immense esplanade dotted with gardens, planted with orange trees, and surrounded by high walls.

MARRAKECH

Ben Youssef Medersa

It is an architectural gem dating back to the 14th century, known for its magnificent design and historical significance as an educational institution. The Ben Youssef Medersa is an impressive example of Islamic architecture, with a decorative mihrab and a wooden minbar.

MARRAKECH

The Souks of the Medina

The souks are a riot of colors, noise, and activities, a rich emporium of all the treasures of this vast and varied country. The real fascination is watching the artisans at work, gilding leather, hammering copper, embroidering silks, or smoothing the surface of cedar wood.

MARRAKECH

Majorelle Garden

It is a one-hectare botanical garden in Marrakech, created by the French orientalist artist Jacques Majorelle over nearly 40 years. It features a cubist villa designed by the French architect Paul Sinoir in the 1930s.

MARRAKECH

Yves Saint Laurent Museum

It is a work of contemporary architecture designed in October 2017. It stands as a must-visit destination for fashion and art enthusiasts, offering a captivating tribute to one of the greatest fashion designers of the 20th century.
